What experience do you have in strategic planning?

Planning a purchase, lease or sale wirth real estate clients. Developing timelines; managing expectations throught out the transaction process with some decisions well thought out, others, spur of the moment and time sensitive.

What experience do you have in the area of finance?

Budgeting for my own company when it was active.
Offering suggestions to real estate clients with deposits; down payment; closing fees etc.during transactions, always referring them to porfessionals for advice
As part of the club executive at Humber Shores, I partook and advised during budget meetings.

What experience do you have in developing procedures?

In a real estate here are usually conditions to be met within certain time periods to be strictly adhered to. It takes good planning and organizing to accomplish that. As an Area Director and last year as a Division Director, my procedural skills grew when it came to organizing and delegating for certain events including club visits, contests, COT, etc.

What lessons did you learn from previous leadership positions?

In any executive capacity within Toastmasters, it's very fulfilling to see members take on a speaking role; Club Officer or Ad role, then flourish. The executive positions, while being important also act as mentors, influencing those coming up. The leadership qualities that emerge are heartening and encouraging. Pleasant surprises from those who had "Never done this before."

Why do you want to serve as a District leader?

It gives me great satisfaction to serve my fellow members and help them in any way I possibly can. When one of us succeeds in given tasks or offices, the entire District succeeds in fulfilling the time honored Toastmasters intentions of communication and leadership. As Division Director it's been a privilege to serve a great team of Area Directors that have served their respective clubs well. and along the way they have taught me.

In your opinion, what are the District mission's major objectives and how would you work to achieve them?

To see our members...at any level...fulfill their Pathways ambitions and head toward a DTM. Set the tone for success by encouraging progress, not perfection. When each member rises to the challenges, the entire District rises.

Additional information about yourself:

I'm the eternal optimist! There are many sides to each individual, no matter their culture. In truly understanding the rich diversity in Toastmasters I like helping people take delight in satisfying their inquisitiveness, embrace the challenges and grow. Then mentor to pass their experience along. A win at any level of Toastmasters!
